National Severe Weather Warning Service

CANCELLED

Chief Forecasters Assessment
Another batch of rain, perhaps 20-30 mm in places, particularly on hills, will spread across southern and some western areas of Scotland during the weekend. Since this will be falling on ground that is approaching saturation, some further impacts seem quite likely.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Alert of Rain

Valid from 00:00 on Sun, 24th Jun 2012 until 15:00 on Sun, 24th Jun 2012

Further rainfall, heavy and persistent in places, is likely to fall for a time on Sunday.

Given the large amounts that are accumulating in the period prior to Sunday, the public should be aware of the risk of further problems with surface water and localised flooding.
